HORROR BIBLIOGRAPHY

The following is a selection of material which covers a variety of aspects in the subject area of "Horror". Only English language material has been included. A number of pre-1980 publications have been included where it was deemed useful. A selective list of periodical articles, as well as a short list of relevant journal titles on the subject, can be found in the final section of this bibliography.

Please remember that the material included on the work of specific personalities is highly selective and by no means a reflection of the whole range of publications on major personalities in this field.

All of the materials listed here are held in the Library of the British Film Institute. Please note that our collection is reference only. There are photocopying facilities available in the Reading Room.

If you wish to consult these materials you will need to become a member.

JOURNAL REFERENCES

This section has been included to provide a fuller view of the availability and wealth of material on the bibliography’s subject. Once again, the items included are subject to selection and are by no means a comprehensive guide.

Please note that sources such as the "International Index to Film Periodicals" have not been used. All information has been collected from the British Film Institute’s database, SIFT, and each journal cited is, at present, available in the Library.

All articles quoted have been published within the last five years. Abstracts have been included where they exist on the database.

Original research on journal references was carried out by Pat Daniels.
